It is a great joy for us to present to you the program of the XXIII International Congress of Analytical Psychology, 24 – 29 August 2025, in Zurich.

This Congress celebrates the 150th Anniversary of C.G.Jung. We are still drawn to the genius and pioneering work of Carl Gustav Jung and continue to develop his model of the psyche. By organizing our meeting in Zurich, we wish that everybody can experience and share the spirit of the region where analytical psychology was born and many of the basics were founded. The expansive excursions program offers the opportunity to see all the places that are relevant to the origins of Analytical Psychology, and we wish you all great joy in visiting them.

When in January 2023, members of the Congress Program Committee defined the theme for this Congress:

EXPERIENCES OF THE NON-UNDERSTANDABLE: JUNGIAN EXPLORATIONS AND CONTRIBUTIONS

One hundred fifty years have passed since Jung's birth.
Where are we today? Who are we today?

Reflections on theory, clinical practice, values, ethics, research, training and cultural awareness.

There was no doubt that this Congress would become a truly remarkable event – not only looking forward but also honoring and reflecting on the roots, history and diversity of Analytical Psychology. At the same time, the awareness that we live in very turbulent, disturbing, threatening, and challenging times created the wish to have space in this Congress to address and discuss current themes from the viewpoint of Analytical Psychology. Also exploring the positive contribution our work can offer and where we can make a difference.

There is no doubt that Analytical Psychology is a very alive and diverse field of psychology. This is demonstrated by the almost 500 proposals which were submitted after the call for papers in 2023. The Program Committee was overwhelmed by the richness, creativity and range of subjects that were offered. In February 2024, the Committee had to make the difficult choice of accepting papers and rejecting many excellent papers due to space and time limitations.

We are sorry – many had to be disappointed.

On Sunday, before the Congress there will be the regular Pre-Congress with workshops and masterclasses, the Council of Societies Meeting and other gatherings.

On Sunday early evening, we will all meet at the Congress Center to share the welcome apéro, reconnect with old friends and colleagues, meet new ones, and start to participate in the spirit of this Congress.

On Monday, the Congress will start with a presentation of a new book by the Jung Family: Dedicated to the Soul: Emma Jung's Life and Work. The presentation will include new insights into the life and thinking of Emma Jung. The Writings and Drawings of Emma Jung will, for the first time, to document Emma Jung's early contributions to the development of the field of Analytical Psychology and major steps in her own path to individuation.

The Congress program will offer a vast spectrum of subjects, ideas and perspectives. You will be able to choose from 9 plenaries, 10 big-break-out sessions in the main hall and 110 regular break-out sessions offering 32 joint presentations and 120 single presentations. In the early morning, you can start your day by attending the Dream Matrix or a new format, "Gibberish Meditation: Expressing the Inexpressible". During the lunch break, there will be book receptions, some workshops, and an exchange on current themes.

An extensive evening program will offer films, plays, and music. There will be two daily options to attend, which are also included in the Congress fee.

Simultaneously, we will also have the traditional Members Gala on Thursday evening, organized by Mark Winborn in a beautiful location in the Old Part of Zurich, only minutes from the Congress Center.

Many of you will come to Zurich wishing to see the places relevant to Analytical Psychology. With the registration, you can select from a vast range of 45 tours organized by our Local Organizing Committee. They have done a marvellous job and managed to open doors for you that are normally closed to the public. There will be guided tours to the Tower of Bollingen with a shuttle bus directly from the Congress Center. There will also be tours to the ETH Archives, the Burghölzli Psychological Club, Jung-Museum in Gommiswald, ISAPZurich and Basel. The tours in Basel allow you to see the places where Jung grew up, went to school and studied in his early years.

Further on, House Cabaret Voltaire offers an extraordinary exhibition that brings the previously largely unknown cosmos of Emma Jung into dialogue with contemporary artist Rebecca Ackroyd, And the National Museum nearby will present a book launch about a publication accompanying the exhibition "Soul Landscapes. C.G.Jung and the Discovery of the Psyche in Switzerland" that takes place later in the year.

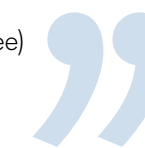

You will be able to visit Küsnacht by yourself taking the "Self-Guided Walking Tour to Küsnacht". There you can visit the Jung House and Museum (booking your entry directly with the Jung House). During that visit you can also visit the nearby C.G.Jung Institute Zurich, Küsnacht, which will host a special exhibit and show treasures from its famous Picture Archive. The Institute is located close to the Cemetery where you can visit resting places of Emma and C.G.Jung, and Marie-Luise von Franz and Barbara Hannah. The Self-Guided Walking Tour can be conveniently covered with a Public Transportation Ticket, also bookable with Congress registration. This ticket allows the use of trains, buses or ships to Küsnacht and it is valid in the City of Zurich plus the Küsnacht Zone. The ticket is offered at a significant discount compared to regular ticket prices.

On Friday afternoon, there will be the closing ceremony, during which the new Honorary Members of IAAP will be presented and the new Individual Members will be celebrated. At the end of the ceremony, IAAP President, Misser Berg, will give her farewell address ending the three years of her administration. This will be followed by the speech by Pilar Amezcaga, who will become the new President after this Congress.

The Congress ends with the Gala Dinner at the Congress Center. This time, we chose a more open and less formal format to allow participants to come together and enjoy the location, the food, and the music. The location will offer the right atmosphere to end a remarkable and enriching week for all attendees.

With best wishes, and looking forward to seeing you in Zurich,

Misser Berg (President IAAP),
Andreas Michel (Chair Program Committee)

Dream sharing

Social Dreaming – Once upon a time...
Dominique Lepori & Jens Preil
Dream sharing lasts an hour, every morning of the Congress. Shared dreams like elements of a fairy tale resonate in the group bringing up memories of other dreams, which once shared allow the fairy tale to unfold its meaning.
7.30 – 8.30 GARTENSAAL 1A

Gibberish Meditation

Expressing the Inexpressible
Sina Rees
This experiential group is an opportunity to be playful, to explore and to express whatever needs to be expressed. One could say, this group format is an unconventional, non-rational vehicle for letting the embodied, spontaneous psyche speak in presence of each other. It is an invitation for colleagues who have the desire or openness to enter into a shared field while being in full action and self-expression.

Monday

20.00 Dramatic reading
by The IRSJA Players
The Mystery Play of C.G.Jung
This is a play reading that enables both actors and audience to have an embodied experience of The Red Book. Dramatic dialogues accompanied by music and Jung's artwork bring his 'confrontation with the unconscious' to life in ways only live theatre can provide.

21.30 VORTRAGSSAAL 2

20.15 Concert and film
by Lena Måndotter
Songs of the soul
The concert and the film are musical voyages along the inner horizons of soul. Måndotter's songs are accompanied by guitarist JanEric Ström. They will perform interpretations of Leonard Cohen and Greek and Hebrew hymns. The film is set in the atmospheric Cretan mountains in Greece and dedicated to the mythical musician Orpheus.

22.00 KONGRESSSAAL

Tuesday

19.15 Documentary film
by Eva Pattis
A million grains of sand
What happens when our lives are suddenly overwhelmed by violence or war? How can we face a trauma so immense that it seems unimaginable? Psychotherapist Eva Pattis Zoja guides us through an extraordinary journey of overcoming trauma using images. Documentary film in German with English subtitles, followed by a discussion.

20.45 VORTRAGSSAAL 1

20.00 Concert JUETZ
New Adventures in Alpine Music
(Isa Kurz, Daniel Woodtli, Philipp Moll)
Imagine a ride up to the Jungfrau region, discovering the lush vocals of gorgeous Tyrolienne Isa Kurz. Listen out for her deep grooves on dulcimer, accordion and violin in the shadow of the Eiger Northface. The view is breathtaking and Swiss trumpet player Daniel Woodtli signals atmospheric celtic chants. Philipp Moll's unmistakable bass playing grants safe passage over the mountain rigs and peaks, on to the heartlands of his native Tyrol.

21.00 KONGRESSSAAL

20.00 Folktales in Switzerland
(Kathrin Asper, Maria Bernasconi, Katharina Casanova)
"And if they have not died, they are still alive today...". Stories, legends, fairy tales, songs. Switzerland has a rich tradition of oral storytelling. Kathrin Asper will tell the tale of a ravine, Maria Bernasconi a tale about the old Mrs Smith, Katharina Casanova will present an ancient song about St Margareta on the Alp, Regine Schweizer-Vüllers will tell stories of the redemption of cursed treasure maidens.

21.15 VORTRAGSSAAL 2

Wednesday

19.00 Gideon Horowitz
Tales of magic and mystery
In fairy tales we meet the non-understandable: magic and mystery can occur at any moment. They are not predictable, and no attempt is made to explain them. The session gives listeners the opportunity to experience a guided imagination through realms where everything can happen. Gidon Horowitz is an internationally known storyteller and works as a Jungian Analyst in the region of Freiburg (Germany).

20.00 VORTRAGSSAAL 2

19.30 Film and panel
Thomas B. Kirsch in Conversation with Murray Stein in the Home of C.G.Jung
(Panel with Andreas Jung, Jean Kirsch, John Beebe, Thomas Singer, Murray Stein, Luis Moris)
About a year before Tom Kirsch's death, he met with his friend Murray Stein in the library of Jung's home, in Küsnacht. This is a moving and honest conversation in which Dr. Kirsch speaks about many issues in analytical psychology and about his life as a Jungian.

22.00 KONGRESSSAAL

Thursday

20.00 Sarah Berry-Tschinkel
Elegy for Sabina Spielrein
This one-woman staged reading, winner of the 2019 Gradiva Award, features a controversial historical figure in the psychoanalytic world, Sabina Spielrein (1885–1942). Spielrein's relationship with Jung was a fertile collaboration that contributed to the development of some of Jung's most important contributions. The performance is based upon research using Spielrein's diaries, letters, papers etc., as well as correspondences of Jung and Freud.

21.00 VORTRAGSSAAL 2

20.00 Member's Gala
The Members Gala is a traditional 'ritual' for the IAAP Congress in which IAAP members, candidates and guests invoke the muses and entertain one another with various creative pursuits, for example, poetry, music, dance, dramatic reading, etc. Each year the magic of creative expression unfolds during the Member's Gala and is warmly and enthusiastically embraced by the those in attendance. We warmly welcome all who wish to participate on the stage or as part of the audience.

Book launch at the National Museum Zurich

Publication accompanying the exhibition Soul Landscapes. C.G.Jung and the Discovery of the Psyche in Switzerland. From 17th October 2025, the National Museum Zurich will be showing a major exhibition to mark C.G.Jung's 150th birthday. Alongside renowned works of art, the exhibition will display "The Red Book" by C.G.Jung, Emma Jung's diary, drawings by patients as well as manuscripts and treasures from his alchemical library. The catalogue features around 60 of these works, as well as eleven essays by renowned authors, which explore the exhibition themes in greater depth. The catalog will be published by Scheidegger & Spiess, Zurich, from 10th August 2025.

Zwischen 1933 und 1941 hielt C. G. Jung an der Eidgenössischen Technischen Hochschule (ETH) Zürich Vorlesungen für ein allgemeines Publikum. Der vorliegende Band 6 der achteiligen Reihe enthält Jungs bemerkenswerte Vorlesungen aus den Jahren 1938 bis 1940 über die Psychologie des Yoga und der Meditation. Jung vergleicht hier seine Methode der Aktiven Imagination mit den meditativen Praktiken verschiedener Traditionen des Yoga und des Buddhismus. Um in die östliche Meditation einzuführen, stützt er sich auf drei zentrale Yoga-Texte, u.a. auf das Yoga-Sutra von Patañjali. Mit seinen ausführlichen Erklärungen zu zentralen Konzepten des Yoga und C. G. Jungs Analytischer Psychologie gibt dieser Band wichtige Hilfen zum Verständnis östlicher Spiritualität und zur Entwicklung von Jungs Denken.

PATMOS

Jetzt im Buchhandel oder unter shop.verlagsgruppe-patmos.de

The background of the entire page is a vibrant cosmic scene. It features a large, glowing nebula with shades of blue, purple, and red, set against a dark space filled with numerous stars of varying brightness. Some stars have prominent diffraction spikes, creating a starry night effect. The overall composition is ethereal and celestial.
